It was not however, till ten years later, when the celebrated case of Cox v. Hickmann was decided by the House of Lords, in 1865, by the application of this principle of limited responsibility to questions of partnership, that the subject of Sir Robert P. Colrebel, otherwise the landing of the Turkish lier's motion came to be embodied in our present Partnership Amendment Act

(28 and 29 Vict., c. 86) of 1865. This Act, almost literally transcribed in our local Ordinance 7 of 1867, lays down that the advance of money on contract to receive a share of profits does not of itself constitute the lender a partner and that the remaneration of agents or servants, by share of profits, does not of itself make them partners. The only difference, a purely verbal one, between our local Ordinance and the Imperial Act consists in the former substituting, for the words " taking the benefit of any Act for the relief of insolvent debtors: or entering into an arrangement to pay his creditors less than twenty shillings in the pound," the following words, entering into an arrangement to pay his creditors less than the full amount of To-DAY the Halloong came out of Kowloon their respective claims." ## CORRESPONDENCE

RUSSIA'S MOVEMENTS IN THE NORTH. To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."

Hongkong, 4th Aug. on the Sedimi coal mines, there is another Russian project which the general public may not be aware of. It is the conversion of the Military Station at Poisette into an extensive trade depot. ... The harbour well sheltered and of sufficient depth, and is only closed in the most severe winters. and that only for a short time by ice. The Russians have constructed a road from Poisette which joins the Great Kerin road at no great distance. Goods from Kerin destined for Moukden and Newchwans pass this way, and it is hoped in time divert them to Poisette, the inducement being a saving of something like nine hundred miles land carriage. Last fall a Russian Expedition left Wladivostock, of which a foreigner well known in the north acted as Chinese interpreter. It penetrated far into Chinese territory and is said to have ascertained the practicability of opening up a trade route (i.e. a military road) to Windivostock, and to have guaged the political tendencies of the frontier inhabitants in a manner satisfactory to Russian interests. Should the Russian's succeed in tapping the stream of goods on the Kerin Road, it will mean serious detriment to reported in favour of the two items. $173. Newchwang as a port.

It is certain that Korea in future will not conclude a treaty with any foreign power unless the negotiator is a full minister specially authorized by his sovereign with an antograph letter to the King of Korea. If Korea were recognized as a vassal of China, then none of the powties in Ireland have been proclaimed under ers which have hitherto entered into agreements with Korea would give them the ventions. The course of events hitherto was perhaps beyond the original conception of our foreign representatives and of the Chinese Government, who wished Korea to enter into treaty obligations with foreign countries in order to-let us say the plain truth-save Korea from a Japanese (or Russian) annexation. The present state of things I think will rather facilitate such annexation, because the moment Korea is regarded by other foreign powers as a selfruling, autocratic, independent state, from that moment any other country can declare war against Korea without considering her suzerain, and the casus belli rests now with Korea slone, whereas formerly China had to be taken into consideration.

Another proof of how far Chinese wrath goes is here furnished. When the Japanese made a treaty with Korea, they first asked the assistance of the Chinese; and, after treaty with Korea, but even then without acknowledging the independence of Korea. Li Hung-chang induced the Koreans make treaties with foreign nations from no other motive than to spite Japan. This may appear ridiculous, but it is none the less true. > LEGISLATIVE ATAVISM. (Scientific American,)

While studying the variations of plants and animals under domestication and also in the state of nature, Darwin observed a tendency more or less persistent and active revert to earlier and less specialized forms. Instead of exactly reproducing the Credits, parent in type and behavior the off-spring would more closely resemble some ancestral form, perhaps far remote in time and in

The same characteristic appears also Gold Leaf, 991 fine among men; and the scientific historian Sovereigns, ... finds in this "atavism" an explanation of wild barbarism among partially civilized communities, as shown in relapses to the bloody rites of ancestral religious and the like; and of those equally unreasoning outbursts of race animosities among more highly civilized peoples; such, for example, as may be witnessed to-day in Russia and on our Pacific Coast.

It is largely through this national or local atarism that history repeats itself; and because of it the experience of one age or generation counts for nothing when a later generation relapses and insists upon repeat.

ing the old, it may be, fatal experiment. Under new and widely different conditions, the old phase of thought and feeling revives, and, with the passionate unreason of the earlier day, men repeat the ancient folly and re-enact the ancient injustice. Compare the recent act of Congress against the immigration of Chinese laborers with the laws against free negroes enacted a few years ago by South Carolina and other States of the south and west. The parallel is discreditably close, and the disgrace of Congress is greater than that of the earlier legislators in that Congress in its unwarranted invasion of the dignity and inherent rights of all honost labor, acted less from conviction than from a contempti ble fear of offending a class in the far west, whose votes may be needed on some future election day; a class whose moral and economical thinking exactly reproduces that of the earlier day, as exhibited in this typical provision of the Constitution of bragon, to wit :

" No free negro or mulatto, not residing in this States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall ever come, reside, or be within this State, or hold any real estate, or make any contract or maintain any suit therein; and the Legislative Assembly shall provide by penal laws for the removal, by public officers, of all such free negroes and mulattoes, and for their effectual exclusion from the State, and Extraordinary and Minister Plenipoten- for the punishment of persons who shall bring them into the State, or employ or lurbor them therein.

The new law which disgraces our statute books makes it unlawful (for the space of ten years from August next) for any Chinese laborer to come within the limits of the does not recognize the vassalage of Korea United States, or for any person to aid or abet them in coming ; the words " Chinese skilled workers. The law provides

Section 10 provides "That every vessel whose master shall knowingly violate any provisions of this act shall be dooned forfeited to the United States, and shall be liable to seizure and condemnation in any district of the United States into which such vessel may enter or in which she may be found : and

Section il: "That any person who shall knowingly bring into or cause to be brought from other sources. This would be an exact echo of the own :-South Carolina law against the introduction of "free negroes or persons of color," if it only had a clause providing for the sale into slavery of the obnuxious Chinaman. The spirit is the same; and the excuses offered for so barbarous and auti-American an invasion of the common rights

The free person of color was of an alien and degraded race, incompetent of citizenship and unfit to blend socially or politically with the Caucasian. TIHIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of " Notes and Queries on China and Japan," has reached its Tenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are apportment in the minds of students of the "Far East" and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the For East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel, by well known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction, the Magazine would be made more generally

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China site, and to give critiques embodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to " Editor, China Review, cara of China

Mail Office. The Notes and Queries are still continued and form an important manus of obtaining from and diffusing among students know farther and greater facilities for the inter-

Uriginal contributions in Chinese, Latin, or any of the Modern Languages are recoived. The papers are contributed by the Town Church, Elgin Street members of the various Consular, the luperial Customs, and Hongkong Services. #### OPPRIONS OF THE PIERSS

"All our learned seguetres should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising 15 view." .- Northern Christian Advant (US) "The China Reciew * * * * has an ex collent table of contents. Calestrol Empire "The Publicational ways contains subjects of interest to sojourners in the Far East and the present issue will hold favourable if not advantageous comparison, with preveding numbers." -- Celestial Empue. "This number contains several articles of interest and value." North China Head I "The present number of the periodical. * * * * opens with a review of the Foreign Trade of China during 1880. This is rather a new departure for a publication which professes to be purely literary; but considering the comparatively small circulation | it enjoys at present among the commercial communities of China, we had the maovation as likely to recommend the Reen's to the notice of these who take an interest in few matters beyond moreantile pursuits.

North-China Herold. maintains the high standard of excellence which characterises that public cation, and altogether forms a very interesting and readable number. Me toorologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Fritsche, on "the Amount of Precipitation (Rain and Snow) of Poking," showing the results. of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Peking, from 1841 to 1880. "Notes on the Dutch Occupation of Eormosa," by Mr. Geo. Phillips, contains some interesting information, although much of it is second-hand. The Notices of New Books include a most generous and of Nan-Hua," and the Notes and Queries are as usual very interesting." - North-China

Daily News.

"A substantial and reliable Review which all students of China and the Chinese would Two Coolies. do well to patronise." -Chrysantheanum. "The November-December number of the China Review contains less variety than | Four Coolies. ... ting. The opening paper by Mr Herbert Two Coolies, ... A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chinese" treats of a question that must necessarily be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries. . . Mr E. H. Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuen are continued, and a goodly instalment of paper of some length entitled "The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinese history A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which "On Chinese Oaths in Western Burney and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number."-H.K. Daily Press.

Trubner's Oriental Record contains the 1s following notice of the China Review :-The present publication, judging by the I number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the 21 neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the 2 Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years | 3 upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body. among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors . . . Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese post-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowrs. is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance.
